

Donkey Racing

A Priest wanted to raise money for his church, and being that there was a fortune in horse racing, he decided to purchase one and enter it in the races. However, at the local auction, the going price for horses was so steep that the Priest ended up purchasing a donkey.

Then, he figured that since he had the donkey, he may as well go ahead and enter it in the races anyway. The donkey came in third. The next day the daily racing form carried the headline, "Priest's Ass Shows."

The Priest was so pleased with the donkey that he entered it in the race again. This time the donkey won! The next day the racing form read, "Priest's Ass Out In Front."

The Bishop was so upset with this kind of publicity that he ordered the Priest not to enter the donkey in another race. The newspaper headline that day read, "Bishop Scratches Priest's Ass."

This was too much for the Bishop, so he ordered the Priest to get rid of the animal at once. The Priest decided to give it to the nearby convent. The headline that afternoon read, "Nun Has Best Ass in Town."

The Bishop fainted! He informed the Nun that she would have to dispose of the donkey immediately. She found a farmer who was willing to buy the animal for $10. The next day the newspaper headline stated, "Nun Peddles Ass for Ten Bucks."

They buried the Bishop that day and on the day following the funeral the headline read, "Too Much Ass Responsible for Bishop's Death."
